OLD SCHOLAR'S CLUBS.

Progress of a Great National Movement.

A valuable social and educational link between school life and business has been provided by the National Association of Old Scholars' Clubs, which is entering upon the third year of its existence.

The Lord Chief Justice at the head of the movement, which comprises fifty-five affiliated and scholars' clubs within the area of Greater London, and about a similar number in the provinces. The list is being augmented almost daily, and a wide field of work has been opened up. The general secretary, Mr. H. Fleetwood Williams, dealing with the possibilities of the movement, says that out of six million children now passing through the elementary schools into industrial life, no fewer than 600,000 leave every year.

Some 12,000 boys pass out of the London schools, and the whole range of activities for their betterment, from lay Society to Bands of Hope, do not succeed effectively in laying hold of more than 40 per cent. of this number. On this point, social experts are in full agreement. To sum up, we may perhaps best define the movement as 'An agency, co-extensive with the United Kingdom, for supplementing and continuing the work of the elementary schools, in the strengthening of habits of health, discipline, and study, the formation of character, and the cultivation of a spirit of school honour, self-help, co-operation, and good citizenship.

CHARACTER BUILDING.
It is important to carry forward by all legitimate means the salutary character-building influence of school days—unnaturally cut short at the age of fourteen years—into the workaday lives of the sons and daughters of the less fortunate classes. These boys and girls will inevitably become a determining factor in our nation's destiny.

Assuredly then all educative endeavours to serve the actual needs of these young people in the vocation of their lives must be altogether 'worth while,' and must deserve the support and encouragement of all far-sighted men and women, who with a complete equipment for the conflict of existence, in the strictest sense, a large debt of honour to the community.

Such work the National Association of Old Scholars' Clubs has set itself to fulfill. Nothing can supplant the human enthusiasm of individual and private initiative—that mighty dynamic which invariably gives the lead to public action —not even the wisest efforts of Whitehall and the most comprehensive code ever drafted by the wit of mankind. The National Association of Old Scholars' Clubs, in the judgment of its founder and first president, Lord Alverstone, and of others foremost in the world of business and in the leading professions, has set forth a scheme that may well provide the masterkey to a door of opportunity very hard to open.

From the feuilleton in a London paper: "The first thing you can do to keep your mouth shut, and remember that a quiet little talk with Mr. John Voss." It would have to be a very quiet little talk indeed.

A FAVORITE RUB DOWN.

THE dollar, the five full player and the All-rounder. "Pine" know the value of Chamberlain's Pain-Expeller. It is just the thing for a rub down after a hard game.
All are most enthusiastic like me, and spring to it as a relief in any case. It is just the thing for any other treatment.
For sale by all Chemists and Druggists.

Coal from the Administration's Lanchow Mines can be obtained on application to the Agents, SIEMSEN & Co.A Natural RemedyTime was when disease was thought to be due to the direct influence of evil spirits, and exorcism and magic were invoked to cast it out.Science has taught us wisdom. The evil spirits exist still. We call them "Disease Germs," and they also must be cast out. Once lodged in the stomach or intestines, fever with its hallucinations, or biliousness with its aches and pains, is the result.ENO'S FRUIT SALTis the approved remedy for driving out disease germs. Its action is quick and thorough. It clears the intestines, rouses the torpid liver to new life, stimulates the mucous membrane to a healthy action, and cleanses and invigorates the whole digestive tract.It may be safely taken at any time by young or old.It is very effective in the early stage of Diarrhoea by removing the irritating cause.Be prepared for emergencies by always keeping a bottle in the house.Prepared only by J. C. ENO, LTD., "FRUIT SALT" WORK, LONDON, ENGLAND.
SOLD BY CHEMISTS AND STORES EVERYWHEREBuilds up Strength.As a recuperative in all cases of lung, stomach or bowel weakness, or after any severe illness, Angier's Emulsion positively has no equal. Bland and pleasant, it promotes appetite, aids digestion, and builds up health and strength. It is the ideal tonic and builder, because it is soothing and healing as well as strengthening. Angier's Emulsion is pleasant to take and agrees perfectly with delicate stomachs. It is equally good for all ages and may be given with perfect confidence to delicate infants and children. It is largely used in hospitals for children.

ANGIER'S EMULSION

"Its Wonderful Building-up and Curative Properties."Athleigh, Knighton, Leicester.
Dear Sir,—It is with great pleasure I bear testimony to the inestimable value of Angier's Emulsion. Nine years ago I had a bad attack of neuritis, and after trying several remedies, a physician of high standing prescribed Angier's Emulsion. I commenced to take it regularly, and within a month began to feel the good effects of it. I persevered and within three months I was once restored to health. I have had bronchitis and lung troubles, and without Angier's Emulsion I have no hesitation in saying that I should have been unable to carry out the strenuous work I have undertaken. I have recommended Angier's Emulsion to hundreds of my friends in this country and abroad, who have all testified to its wonderful building-up and curative properties.

A FINE GOLFER.

The American Champion and His Style.

(By Bernard Darwin in the "Evening Standard.")The hero of the Open Golf Championship of America, even before he had won it, was Mr. Francis Ouimet. He is only twenty-one years old; until this year he was unknown outside his own State, and had never even qualified for the Amateur Championship. Now, on the day I write (September 19), here he is tying with Vardon and Ray for the first place in the Open Championship, and that on a day as wet and miserable and difficult as could well be imagined, and under circumstances of really desperate tension.Here was the state of things. Vardon and Ray had finished in 304 for four rounds, and Mr. Ouimet had to do 79 to tie and 78 to beat them. The other Americans who had a chance of beating the invaders had faded away, and Mr.
Ouimet was the one hope of his countrymen, and he knew it. The rain was pouring down pitilessly, making everything as slippery and treacherous as could well be. Mr. Ouimet got into various bunkers on the way out—he took 43 to the turn, and began homeward by taking 5 to a little mashie shot hole of 130yds. long. If over a man was beaten to all appearances he was the man. His last four holes really bear describing in detail: bearing in mind the fact that he had to do them in two thirds and two fourths to tie, and that this was one better than perfect play. At the fourteenth he was wide of the green in the rough with his second, laid his third stone dead with a mashie shot, and got his four. At the sixteenth, which is a short hole, he had to hole an eight or nine feet putt for his three, and down it went. At the seventeenth he laid a long iron shot within three yards of the hole again, and again holed his putt.
At the home hole he hit a perfectly straight drive and long iron shot, laid a little run-up within four feet, and holed the putt.All this he did, knowing exactly what he had to do, with several thousand patriotic Americans in the wildest possible state of excitement surging along all round him, and sending the air with shouts as his putts went in! It seems to be quite the most heroic effort I have ever seen on a golf course. There was nothing approaching a fluke about it.
He had no luck to help him. It was simply the most admirable and courageous golf played under the most trying possible circumstances.It is very difficult to say exactly why and how Mr. Ouimet is such a very fine golfer as he is. The most obvious explanation is that he makes so very few bad shots. He has the professional's gift of going on and on apparently for any length of time—kicking the ball, as the Americans call it, straight "down the alley." He has a very easy and graceful method of swinging the club, and he stands with his right shoulder very markedly depressed. It is rather a long, loose swing, and at first sight one thinks that his longness and looseness will bring trouble in its train, but it never seems to do so. The same remarks apply to his iron play. The long, loose swing, to begin with, that he swings his iron club too much; that there is not quite the right crispness and snap and lift about his iron play; but with that graceful, swinging stroke he continues to send the ball perfectly dead straight up to the green.Finally he is a very good putter, his putting in those wonderful last four holes was inspired; but, apart from that, he is usually very reliable on the green.
He has rather a "curious" style, with elbows tucked out in a way that is not usually recommended by learned authorities. "If it's a style that looks as if it might go wrong, and produce the mis-moving of the body, but does again the same result he has said nothing aboutit, because the style does not go wrong. Altogether, he is rather a baffling, but a very fine golfer, and as to his nerve and fighting power, there can be no two opinions. In this very championship he began his first round of all by taking two sixes at two four holes—enough to upset most people of twenty or any other age. In every round he played he had some disastrous hole, and he always followed it up by something particularly brilliant.Now I come to my postscript, and the postscript ought to be longer than the original letter (there is no cause for alarm in this sentence), because wonderful as was Mr. Ouimet's play when he tied, it was still more wonderful when he won. Ray and Vardon failed to win the championship because on the second day, which they began with a lead, they played badly, but they did not lose the title because they played badly, but because Mr. Ouimet played so well. In times golf matches the losers beat themselves, but it was not so in this case.
Mr. Ouimet won it because he played so superlatively well. He played as nearly faultlessly as it is possible for anyone to play; he left his one brassie shot from rather an awkward place, and he put one out of bounds. Otherwise he never made a single stroke that could be called anything but good; he approached consistently nearer the hole than either of his respectable adversaries, and he always had the inside turn when it came to the putting green.
Finally, I do not think that even the most furiously patriotic of Englishmen could possibly have done anything but break into rapturous cheers when Mr.
Ouimet holed his last putt on the home green.

£15,000 A YEAR ON DRESS.

U.S. Society Women's Huge Clothing Bills.Some idea of the enormous sums spent by society women in Chicago on personal adornment may be gathered from figures which were given at the half-yearly convention of the Chicago Dressmakers' Club the other day. According to these statistics several of the leaders of society spend no less than £15,000 a year on dress, while one hundred of the women who form the elite of the city are said to have a yearly expenditure of £10,000 apiece. Ten thousand others spend the mere trifle of £1,000 per annum to deck themselves. In brief, enough money is spent in the year at their dressmakers, etc., by society women there to build no fewer than five super-Dreadnoughts!From these heights the figures come down with a rush to the £200 a year which well-dressed women are said to find the minimum on which they can afford themselves. Then there is another drop to the £100 a year of the suffragist and church worker, the £50 of the social worker, and the £25 of the short-handled typist. Shop girls are said to expend £50 a year in clothing themselves and ministering to their vanity, while at the end of the scale comes the factory girl with the modest sum of £40.

COL. SEELY'S FIFTH FLIGHT.

Colonel Seely, War Secretary, had a fifteen-minute flight as the flying base of the manoeuvres "Whitehead Army at Lillbourne, near Rugby." Colonel Seely had been in the air five minutes when the King and Queen arrived from Althorp Park to inspect the camp. Their Majesties showed keen interest in his flight. The machine eventually alighted about twenty yards from the royal party, while the War Secretary joined after removing his flying clothes.
This was Colonel Seely's fifth flight.OFFERS: Fresh, Fried or Stewed.

J. T. DAVENPORT, Ltd., London, S.E.THE KAISER DEFIED BY HIS SON-IN-LAW.

Claim to a Throne.

Germany has been plunged into a for-ment by the sensational news published in a Frankfurt newspaper that the old quarrel between the Hohenzollerns and the Guelfs, over the claim of the latter to the throne of Hanover, so far from being settled for all time, as everybody thought, is more acute than ever, and that the Kaiser and his son-in-law, Prince Ernest of Cumberland, are sharply divided.Every one is asking "how" will the Kaiser elevate to the throne of Brunswick his son-in-law, who is openly opposed to the unity of the German Empire, and defy public opinion, or will he continue the quarrel, and put his daughter in the position of being forced to decide between her husband and her father?Prince Ernest, who married the Kaiser's only daughter last May, is the eldest son of the Duke of Cumberland, the head of the Guelfs, who have for half a century steadily urged their claims to the kingdom of Hanover, which was merged in the kingdom of Prussia in 1866. It was fully understood at the time of the wedding in May that Prince Ernest had relinquished the Guelf claim, and that the compensation was to be his elevation to the throne of Brunswick.There was no formal renunciation, however, and in well-informed political circles fears were expressed that the quarrel, which has more than once threatened to disrupt the hegemony of the German Empire, would break out again.The revelations of the "Frankfurter Nachrichten" to the only German Prince who fears, and it appears now that Prince Ernest, so far from renouncing the Guelf claim to the Hanoverian throne, said:"For me and my house, honour comes first. Then comes love." The Kaiser has thus given his only daughter to the only German Prince who openly plots against Germany's unity.It is stated by the "Nachrichten" that before the betrothal was publicly announced the Kaiser sent his fourth son, Prince August Wilhelm, to talk matters over with Prince Ernest of Cumberland. The interview took a very dramatic turn.Prince August asked in the name of the Kaiser if his future brother-in-law would openly renounce his claim to the throne of Hanover. Prince Ernest indignantly refused, and, after declaring proudly that the Guelf honour came before even love, he strode out of the room in a passion.Prince August ran after him, but Prince Ernest refused to discuss the matter further.
After the betrothal was announced the Kaiser invited the old Duke of Cumberland to Hanover, and tried to induce him to renounce the Guelf claims. But the Duke, who had sworn in 1878 by the bedside of his dying father, the blind King George V., never to give up the claim, was as implacable as his son.
He said to the amazed Kaiser—"My son's engagement and marriage have nothing to do with politics. My son can marry your daughter, even if he is, refused permission to accept the throne of Brunswick. Never will he renounce our claim to Hanover." Since the marriage the German Chamberlain, Dr. von Rehm, has been to

HOIST BY HIS OWN BED.

Baker's Invention That Worked Too Well.A bed that rocks the occupant to sleep at night and mechanically turns him out at an appointed hour in the morning has been invented by a baker at Cleveland, Ohio, but it is not quite ready for the market. He gave a public demonstration with the bed, which entered so thoroughly into the spirit of his idea that it stood on end with a jerk, and tipped him out through a French window. The bed, as shown, was set on rockers, to which an easy motion was applied by a small electric motor. It was equipped with a clock dial, so attached that at the set hour the motor would raise the head of the bed and place the occupant on his feet. The inventor tucked himself into the bed, which set up a gentle rocking.His daughter in the next room was grinding out two quarts of ice cream and a choice programme of classic music on a musical ice-cream freezer, also invented by the baker, and the onlookers at the bedside stepped but of the bed-room to assist her.A rattling whirl sounded from the bedroom, then a yell from the inventor, and a crash. "The self-raising feature of the bed needs some changes before the invention can be put on the market," was his remark. Other out-croppings of his fertile brain are a rock-ing bath-tub to keep babies good tempered, and of spring-action false teeth, and an automatic sweet chopper.Eager for the Young—Sue (aged lost 7,600,000 days, or as nearly as possible eight days each. A little cool thinking about that fact is likely to change the opinion of other than working-class persons of how such disputes appeal to working people. There is talk about the misery and starvation and the rest of it occasioned by strikes, and it is perfectly true that now and then some exceptional distress is caused by them. As a general rule, however, the strike appeals to the working man as a matter no worse, and sometimes not nearly as bad, as the common incidents of his working life. Have those who use exaggerated language on the subject never heard of loss of time through unemployment, through sickness, through accident, through enforced holidays, through waiting for materials? The time lost, the misery and destitution occasioned by these things, is infinitely worse than that caused on the average by strikes. That is no reason for adding a small occasional misery to a normal big one, but it is good reason why some of us should clear up our minds and get things into a better perspective in our working imagination. It is shown in the list given by Mr. Money that there are better and worse years in point of time lost than in 1911, but it is not often that the time lost by those directly and indirectly involved in labour disputes approaches the time lost in an average year through ordinary unemployment. As to whether strikes "pay" or not, there is perhaps room for honest difference of opinion. He quotes the particulars collected by the Board of Trade as to the number of persons affected by changes of wages in these seventeen years, and in each year the net increase or decrease of wages of the persons affected. The disputes can by no means be regarded as the only factor in the results shown in the "Changes in Wages." Many changes of wages occur without disputes arising. They may occur, for example, under sliding scale arrangements, by which wages vary with prices, one of the most un-economic and unfortunate arrangements ever made between masters and men. They are, of course, affected by the state of trade. Nevertheless, it is indisputable that the disputes have some relation to the changes in wages and Mr. Money is very frankly of opinion that there would have been greater falls in wages in the lean years, and smaller rises of wages in the fat years, if men had not been prepared to withhold their labour upon good cause shown. On the other hand, what trade unionist can afford to regard with complacency the wages result of the seventeen years, in whatever degree that result has been affected by strikes or any other factor of causation? We see that in seventeen years there has been a reported change in wages amounting to as nearly as possible an average of only £1,500,000 a year. Whatever interpretation is placed upon this figure, it is only too plain that it confirms other evidence as going to show that in this period while prices have been rapidly rising, wages have been almost stationary.

BANKRUPTCY LAW.

OFFICIAL RECEIVER'S
LOCUS STANDI.

LEGAL POINT TO BE ARGUED.

The question of the locus standi of the Official Receiver in regard to opposition to the making of bankruptcy orders was raised by Mr. W. B. Hind, of Messrs Brutton and Holt, before the Chief Justice in the Bankruptcy Court this morning, and it is to be fully argued at the next court.

Mr. Hind appeared for the petitioning creditor against Li Pak, who he said was the member of the well known Li family who incurred the debts which led to the family's litigation in the courts of the colony. The petitioning creditor's account against debtor was $700, whose total various liabilities were $380,000, with various other liabilities which might amount to $500,000. The assets consisted of a one-eighth share in various towns owning land in the New Territories the estimated value of the share being $80,000 on the books. The act of bankruptcy was a notice of suspension of payment.

The Official Receiver, Mr. H. N. Niblett, opposed the making of an order in bankruptcy against the debtor on the ground that there was insufficient proof that there were substantial assets, stating that he understood "the only information upon which the petitioner was relying was that given by the debtor himself."

Mr. Hind said this was so, but he submitted the upon the affidavits before him his Lordship was entitled to, and must take judicial cognizance of the statement of assets. It was the only evidence upon which his Lordship could form a conclusion. The Official Receiver had no locus standi at all on the question of assets or any other question which arose before the receiving order was made.

His Lordship: Do you contend that if the assets are disclosed at $10 the court is bound to make an order.

Mr. Hind replied that the court had discretionary power. He referred his Lordship to the sections of the ordinance upon which he came to his conclusion.

His Lordship, after perusing the sections to which his attention had been directed, intimated that he could not sit after noon and as the argument was likely to be a lengthy one and the point at issue was apparently an important one which would establish a far reaching precedent, he would rather hear the argument at the next court. Mr. Hind assented.

The statutory fee for a license to perform stage plays in the colony is $120, but in the case of the Sailors' and Soldiers' Home the Governor-in-Council has reduced the fee to $41.

The new N.Y.K. steamer Kashima Maru, which recently left the hands of the builders in Japan, will shortly be placed upon the European run. She is a sister ship of the Katori Maru, the two being the largest boats of the company's fleet.

Twelve men were charged before Mr. Hazenland at the Magistracy this morning by Inspector Dymond with opium smoking at No. 54, First Street. The first man was fined $250 as being the keeper of the den, and the remainder were fined $2 each, or two days.

A Calcutta correspondent states that much excitement has been caused by the decision of the Government of India to increase the number of chests of unrefined opium at the auctions next year from 575 to 1,100, or to 13,200 chests for the year. This has arrested the rise in price, and it is feared that there may be a sudden fall in the price of opium, entailing heavy loss.

In a small town of East Prussia, says the "Hamburg Nachrichten," the school manager was so mad on classics that once a fortnight he held a dancing class, in which the terms of the mazurka of quadrille were translated into Greek and Latin. The birthday of Horace was celebrated with special solemnity, and all the pupils and teachers had to submit to the inevitable, with one exception—the principal teacher. He stayed away. Next day with a sinking heart he saw the manager advance towards him with thunder in his brow. "We were sorry to miss you yesterday at our dancing class," said the great man in so practical tones. "Especially as we were celebrating the birthday of Horace. Why weren't you there?" The teacher made a very dry expression, and answered, "Do you know, sir, I was still suffering from the depressing effects of the day before the anniversary of Cicero's death."

A BAKER'S DEBTS.

LIABILITIES OF $11,500.

Nazar Ali, a baker, attended at the Bankruptcy Court this morning for his public examination in bankruptcy upon the petition of one of his creditors, who was represented by Mr. Denny, of Messrs. Denny and Bowley.

Debtor's liabilities were stated to be about $11,500 and his assets only a few dollars. Cross-examined by Mr. Denny he stated that when he started business in Hongkong he had $300 capital, his own money. Previously he was a partner in a bakery at Singapore, but he was not in financial difficulty there. Questioned as to what became of a cheque for $907 which he received from the military authorities in payment of a contract in September last debtor admitted that his creditors got none of the money, his explanation being that at that time he did not know that he was insolvent; and that he handed the cheque to a servant, with instructions to cash it, but the man applied it to his own use to liquidate a debt to a moneylender.

The public examination was adjourned to the next court on the application of the Official Receiver, Mr. H. A. Niblett.

SCOTTISH LETTER

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

EDINBURGH, October 7.

The Burns Federation Committee have passed a resolution approving of the legal action about to be taken by the Burns family against Liverpool Athenaeum and Messrs. Sotheby for the cancellation of the sale and for the recovery of the Glenriddell MSS. of the poems and letters of Robert Burns, on the understanding that the MSS. be deposited permanently in a public institution in Great Britain. The Lord Provosts of Edinburgh, Glasgow, and Perth are taking an interest in the matter, and it is expected that public meetings will shortly be called.

MORRISSEY GIRL, AS FEMINE.

The "De Freyne Peasants Romance" has a second romance concealed within it, the inventory of the new lord and lady. Anabel Angus, whom Lord De Freyne, then the Hon. Arthur Reginald French, married by special license in 1902, is the second daughter of the late Mrs. Angus, of the Seafield Arms Hotel, Morayshire. Anabel was from her childhood noted for her beauty and charm of manner and was educated at Rotherham public school, which she left at an early age to assist her mother in the hotel. At the age of 18, when she was regarded as the most handsome girl on Doonside, she left for London, where she obtained a situation in a hotel. There she met the future Lord De Freyne, who became deeply attached to the tall, fair, Highland girl, and the love affair terminated in a private wedding. Three years afterwards, his Lordship disappeared when out on a visit to New York, and it was subsequently found that he had enlisted in the American Army. He rose to the rank of sergeant, and appears to have liked the life in the States immensely.

SOME LONDON SCOTTISH MEMORIES.

Major James Alexander, late of the London Scottish, has been writing some reminiscences of the early days of the battalion, which he joined in 1866. He recalls the stuffy, cramped room in Adelphi Terrace, where the men drilled in great discomfort, and the Adam Street headquarters, where conditions were not much better. Praising the present uniform of the London Scottish, he reminds us how to the early days the uniform was more of an individual business than now, and of course the recruits had to bear the cost. The expeditions and reviews of the regiment seem to have been as jolly affairs in the sixties as they are now; and one can see that the traditions which were then created are still adhered to. The first association of the battalion with the Gordon Highlanders came about in 1881, and ever since there has been a strong link of fellowship between the regiments. Several good stories are related by the Major. He tells of the early reception the battalion had from a landlord in whose hotel they were to be quartered, and his subsequent surprise and delight when he found the "poor Scots" ordering champagne and inviting him to join them. On one occasion the regiment was entertained at Haddington, and the officers, including the late Marquis and Marchioness of Salisbury, unknown to the Marquis, but with the connivance of her ladyship, the pipes were brought into the room. Lord Salisbury, it seems, could not bear the pipe music, and on the first night he pushed back his chair and stopped his ears with his fingers, to the great amusement of all, particularly his wife. At one drill, a guide or marker, in dressing his men, added the word "platoon," to the command of the column in command, who healed out, "As you were! Please! is not in the Red Book!"

WIKELIKE IN THE PACIFIC.

It is understood, says a correspondent of the "Glasgow Herald," that Marconi wireless stations will shortly be established at Norfolk Island and Samoa, in Papua, Lord Howe Island, Norfolk Island, and Albany and Carverton in Western Australia. A contract has been signed for the erection of high-power stations in California, Honolulu, and at a point on the Japanese coast which has yet to be selected by the Government. A contract will then be made with India, and thence ultimately to Europe. As far as the Pacific is concerned, rapid progress is being made with the erection of the stations at Shanghai, Hongkong, Penang, and Singapore, and in British North Borneo.

WHY IT SELLS.

SHARE REPORT.

Messrs Vernon and S. Smith, in their weekly share report, dated Oct. 31st, state:—

The local market has again been quiet, but no appreciable change in prices has to be recorded though there is a tendency on the part of Insurance Shares to harden. Langkats have again attracted attention, and been dealt in between Tm. 32 and Tm. 35 and now close with buyers at the latter figure. No doubt due to the report that an increased output is going to be obtained this month. Oil has remained steady during the week, but more enquiry for Rubber has been made. The Tin market still remained dull and according to our latest advices from London closes easier. Fine Hard Para is advised from London at 3/11 per lb. and Plantation Sheets at 2/11 per lb. The open market rate of discount has advanced to 5 per cent and the Bank of England rate stands at last week's quotation viz. 5 per cent. Bar silver closes at 27 1/2 for ready, and forward at 27 1/2; Sterling T.T. again closes at 1/11 1/2 and Shanghai T.T. is quoted at 75 and Singapore T.T. at 84 1/2. China's have advanced to 73.

Bankers.—Hongkong and Shanghai have again been dealt in at $790. London is now reported at $20 (middle) with sellers at $21.

Marine Insurance.—Unions still are required for, and buyers are in evidence at the improved price of $80.00. Cautions have been a quiet market and how close with sellers at $34.50 and Yangtze and North China are unchanged.

Fire Insurance.—Chinas are wanted at the improved rates of $150, and sales are reported in Hongkong at $300.

Shipping.—Hongkong, Canton and Macao have been dealt in at $24 1/2 and they now close in demand at $24 1/2 with no shares on offer. Indo China has been sold at $29, and the London rate remains unchanged at 170 1/2 middle. China and Manila are still wanted at this week's figure viz. $74. Star Ferries continue in demand at $58, with no shares on offer. Douglases have weakened, and close with a buying quotation of $30.

Oils.—Shells have been a quiet market, and close with a middle quotation of 108 1/2 Mexican Eagles are advised from London at 43 1/2 middle and Ural Caspians at 56 1/2.

Refineries.—China Sugars have been sold at $97, and close with sellers at same price. Luzons are a neglected market, and are still on offer at $35.

Mining.—Rauha have been the medium of considerable business and have changed hands at the improved price of $3.50, but at which price sellers have now come on the market. Railways come lower from London with a middle quotation of 30, and Heavwoods are now quoted at 2/6 nominal. Trenchs are firm at 4/6 middle, with local buyers offering 4/6.

Docks, Wharves and Godowns.—Hongkong and Whampoa Docks have been a weak market, and sold at $77 1/2 at which price they close with a nominal quotation. Kowloon Wharves have also sold at $80, and have changed hands at $85 and $86, but now close with buyers at the latter figure. New Amoy Docks are still on offer at last week's figure viz. $84.

Shanghai Docks are slightly easier and are on offer at $75, $76, and $77. Shanghai and Hongkong Wharves have improved, closing with a nominal quotation of Tm. 115.

Land, Hotels and Buildings.—Hongkong Lands have been a quiet market, but are required for at $110. Kowloon Lands have been sold at $45 and are now wanted at $45. West Point is offered at $75, and Humphreys Estates have buyers at $80.

Cotton Mills.—The Northern Mills have ruled fairly steady, the closing quotations being Erwa Tm. 147 1/2 nominal. King Tm. 15 buyers, Shanghai Cottons Tm. 118, buyers and Lam King Mow Tm. 114 buyers. Hongkongs remain on offer at $9, but without leading to business.

Miscellaneous.—Green Island Cements have again been largely dealt in, and changed hands at the improved price of $7 1/2, and now close with buyers at $7.10. China Borneo are now offered at $84. Dairy Pans at $27, Ice at $150, Water Bots at $17 1/2. Hongkong Electric Trams are on offer at 9/1. China Providents at $9, Powells at $9 1/2, China Lights at $1, and Pains at $20.

SIAMSESE LAW OF NATIONALITY.

ALITY.

The despatch from His Majesty's d'Affaires at Bangkok, enclosing copy of the Siamese Law of Nationality, Buddha Era 2458, which came into force on April 10, 1913, has been published as a Parliamentary paper. It enacts as follows:—The following persons are Siamese:—(1) Every person born to a Siamese father, on Siamese territory or abroad. (2) Every person whose mother is a Siamese and whose father is unknown. (3) Every person born on Siamese territory. (4) Every woman of foreign nationality who is married to a Siamese. (5) Every alien who has acquired Siamese nationality by naturalization. A Siamese woman who married an alien, and who has acquired the nationality of her husband, is Siamese provided by sections 4 and 5. Siamese cannot lose his Siamese nationality by naturalization, or otherwise, unless he declares the revocation of his Siamese nationality to the authorities of the Government, or acquires the nationality of another country. If the foreign nationality which a Siamese acquires, extends to his wife, she, too, loses her Siamese nationality. If a Siamese woman who has acquired Siamese nationality, marries an alien, and who has acquired the nationality of her husband, she loses her Siamese nationality. If a Siamese woman who has acquired Siamese nationality, marries an alien, and who has acquired the nationality of her husband, she loses her Siamese nationality.
